WILL FORWARD HIM THE FACTS.

Then Commander Watrouse Will Be Expected to Explain.

A meeting of Phil. Kearny Post's Memorial Committee was held yesterday afternoon at the office of Ghairman Edgar Allan, who is past junior vice-commanderin-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

After attending to business connected with memorial exercises at Seven-Pines cemetery on the 30th instant attention was given to the damaging newspaper reports lately published, wherein it is charged, on asserted Grand Army of the Republic authority, that money sent to the post for memorial-day purposes is misappropriated to the purpose of erecting a memorial hall here. From all that could be gleaned from what has been published the reports had their origin with the commander of the Department of Wisconsin, Mr. Watrouse.

It was decided as a first step necessary towards setting the post right before their comrades and the public to furnish Commander Watrouse with copies of all the circulars sent out by the committee, together with their printed reports of yearly proceedings, wherein it will be clearly shown to him that the fact that the post intended and expected to build a hall out of whatever surplus might accrue was always distinctly set forth and declared, thus bringing to his mind and conscience the slander he has been guilty of in accusing the post of 4nisappropriating the contributions and "swindling" conscience the slander he has been guilty of in accusing the post of anisappropriating the contributions and "swindling" the contributors. He will be asked to make ample correction of his statements, and undo the evil that he has done.

He will be given this opportunity, and under the information that will be sent him it is believed by the committee that he will not object. The evidence vindihe will not object. The evidence vindi-cating the post is overwhelming. The committee does not intend to let the matter stop where it is.

matter stop where it is.

The Charges in Detail.

A Wilwaukee special to the Chicago Tribune gives J. A. Waterman, instead of Watrouse, is the name of the department commander who issued the statement reflecting upon Phil. Kearny Post. The statement, which the Tribune correspondent says was given to warn the Woman's Relief Corps throughout Wisconsin, is as follows:

The statement, which the Tribune corresspondent says was given to warn the Woman's Relief Corps throughout Wisconsin, is as follows:

For many years one post and sometimes two posts of the order at the South have called upon all of the northern posts for contributions of money to be used in decorating the graves of soldiers buried on battlefields in national cemoteries. Tens of thousands of dollars have been sent to the officers of these two posts, the most of it going to one located at Richmond. During the administration of Commander-in-Chief Weissert an investigation showed that with two exceptions the practice of decorating graves at the South had not prevailed. It showed that very little was done in the way of decorating graves in the vicinity of Richmond by the post which had received a vast amount of money from northern comrades. It showed that of all the work done by the Virginia posts, even to the payment of transportation, for flowers and flags, and the placing of flowers and flags on the graves, was paid for, and that not much in the way of decorating was done. What became of all the money? No one pretends to know, but it is believed that some of it has been diverted to the building of a memorial hall in Richmond. Nothing has been said in the calls for contributions about a memorial hall—the money was to have been used for the purchase of flags for decorating graves, not in erecting expensive buildings in Richmond.

Nothing would have been said in this public way had not the Virginia post and some of its friends in other posts disregarded the action of a national encumpment whereby all of the posts in the country were called upon to send funds to Quartermaster Wagner, Philadeiphia, for use in purchasing flags and decorating graves in all of the national cemeteries at the South. This, it was supposed, would put a stop to the annual calls from the Richmond post, but it has not done so. While the Richmond circulars have not been sent to the Grand Army posts this year, they have been sent to the thousands of women's relief corps throughout the North, and it is safe to say that unless they and the posts with which they are connected are warned other thousands of money will be showered into the lap of the Virginia post, a very small proportion of which will be used in decorating the many thousands of graves in the vicinity of that city.

sands of graves in the vicinity of that city.

Under the new arrangement, whereby the money is sent to the quartermaster-general, the custom of decorating the graves in all of the national cemeteries has been established, and our comrades of the South, who have only to make requisition for the number of flags that they desire, are doing their work as patriotically and as tenderly as it is done at the North on Memorial-Day, and they do not pay themselves with money collected from their northern comrades for their services.

Death of Mr. Boucher.

Mr. John Boucher died at 11:30 o'clock last night at his residence, 200 east Main street. Deceased was in his 65th year, and was a native of Ireland, but had been a resident of Richmond for forty years. He was engaged for many years in the cigar manufacturing business, and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the community. Deceased is streiged by his community. Deceased is survived by his wife and one daughter. Mrs. Walter Blount. The funeral arrangements will be made to-day.
